School goes Barking mad for rapper Ramz

RAPPER Ramz returned to the borough his hit song Barking is named after to meet schoolchildren and collect a prestigious award.

Ramz, real name Ramone Rochester, visited students at Eastbury Community School and met leader of Barking and Dagenham Council, Councillor Darren Rodwell.

The 20-year-old performer, born in Mitcham, has taken the UK by storm with his track Barking.

The song has more than 20million views on YouTube and is currently at number two in the charts, among the likes of Drake, Ed Sheeran, Eminem, and Bruno Mars.

CLlr Rodwell, who is a fan of the song, was thrilled Ramz had put Barking back on the map and offered him the Recognition Award.

BARKING: Ramz with pupils from Eastbury Community School

Students sang the song back to Ramz before he was presented with the award and then he spent over an hour signing autographs.

Ramz said: "This is one of the biggest awards I have received so far, and it means so much to me. I was so pleased to come back to Barking and am honoured that CLlr Rodwell has made this award.

"Barking has become my second home and I am blessed that the song has become such a big success.

"This is the first school I have come back to and it was amazing to see the response that I received from the children."

CLlr Rodwell said: "We have given out the award because Ramz is inspiring a whole lot of young people in Barking and Dagenham.

"We all grow up with role-models and a previous individual who picked up this award and got recognised by the borough was a certain Bobby Moore and you cannot say he didn't inspire a whole generation of new footballers.

"It is the same with music and dance. Culture is inspirational. We wanted to recognise Ramz because he deserves this recognition."

HARD BREXIT JOBS SCARE

HUNDREDS of jobs in Barking and Dagenham will be under threat from "no deal" hard Brexit, claims a report published by Sadiq Khan.

The figures published by the Mayor of London predict if the UK leaves the European Union in March 2019 with no deal on the single market, customs union or transition arrangements, 900 jobs in the borough could be under threat.

It states under a "no deal" Brexit there will be 70,200 jobs in Barking and Dagenham in 2030. However, if the UK was to remain in the single market and customs union, there would be 71,100 jobs in the borough.

Mr Khan said: "Barking and Dagenham residents and businesses will be shocked to learn of the huge economic risks – and human costs – at stake in the Brexit negotiations.

"It is up to the Government to secure a Brexit deal that protects Barking and Dagenham from a decade of lower growth and fewer jobs.

"My worry is that because of the Government's mishandling of the negotiations, time is running out if they are to secure jobs, growth and prosperity in Barking and Dagenham, across London and throughout the entire UK.

"This analysis shows why the Government should now change its approach and negotiate a deal that enables us to remain in both the single market and the customs union."

The report by economic analysts

Cambridge Econometrics, commissioned by the mayor, analysed the potential impact of five different Brexit scenarios on London and the whole of the UK.

The report also revealed that across London there could be as many as 87,000 fewer jobs by 2030, and 482,000 fewer jobs across the entire UK.

Ben Gardiner, director of Cambridge Econometrics, said: "Our analysis is particularly valuable to local leaders because it indicates the potential impact on employment and output of Brexit under a range of scenarios, which is necessary given the uncertainty surrounding the final outcome of negotiations."

Rogue landlord fined £97,445 for putting his tenants' safety at risk

A ROGUE landlord was ordered to pay almost £100,000 or face jail for multiple housing offences that left his Ilford tenants living in squalor.

Mohamed Hafeez Kayani, 58, put vulnerable residents' safety at risk by not attending to severe damp and water penetrated electrical units at his property at 222 Mortlake Road, Ilford.

Kayani, of Chase Way, Southgate, breached Housing Act offences, including failure to comply with an Emergency Prohibition Order served in 2013, failure to license a house in multiple occupation (HMO) and failure to properly manage the HMO.

On Friday, January 26, Kayani was sentenced and fined a total of £97,445 at Snarbrook Crown Court.

The penalty was £5,000 for each offence – totalling £45,000 (three months to pay or 18 months' imprisonment), £48,945 confiscation order, £175 victim surcharge and £3,325 costs awarded to Redbridge Council.

The court heard Kayani failed to ensure fire alarms were in working condition and smoke detectors were removed from their casings. The water supply, drainage system and fire escapes were not maintained.

The court was told tenants had to live with a filthy kitchen with a sink unit and electrical hob in disrepair, loose flooring, severe damp and mould, water penetrated electrical units, poor washing facilities and an exposed light bulb connected to an extension lead on the floor in the shower room.

Council cabinet member for housing, Cllr Farah Hussain, said: "The safety of our residents is vital. In this case Mr Kayani failed to comply with the law and failed to properly manage the property. He showed little regard for his tenants and put their lives at risk. His actions were totally unacceptable.

"I hope this case reassures our community that we will do what's needed and take action to improve privately rented accommodation in Redbridge.

"In Valentines and Clementswood wards we've seen the benefits of selective licensing and we hope to extend the scheme to twelve more wards so we can create a consistent standard for rented properties."

All properties with three or more unrelated people living and sharing facilities need a property licence anywhere in Redbridge.

Residents can report unlicensed properties via the council's hotline on 020 8708 4845 or by emailing prslicensing@redbridge.gov.uk.

Teacher claims bugged chatter was just 'over zealous rhetoric'

Terror plot accused denies planning IS attack

AN alleged Islamic State-inspired teacher has dismissed bugged conversations in the wake of the Westminster Bridge attack as "over zealous rhetoric".

Umar Haque, 25, is accused of plotting attacks on London landmarks including Big Ben, the Queen's Guards and Westfield shopping centre in 2016 and early 2017.

The Old Bailey has heard he trained youngsters for terrorism through role-play and exercises at the Ripple Road mosque in Barking, where he taught.

Haque is on trial with Abuthaher Mamun, 19, Muhammad Abid, 27, and Nadeem Patel, 26, who he allegedly recruited to help via the mosque.

His support for IS-inspired attacks was revealed in secretly recorded conversations with Abid and Mamun, it is alleged.

After the Westminster Bridge atrocity, Haque allegedly talked to Abid about launching a series of attacks across the capital.

He said: "We're here to cause terror, my brother. We are a death squad sent by Allah and his messengers to avenge my Arab brothers' blood."

Cross-examining, prosecutor Mark Heywood QC said he had refused to comment about it in police interviews following his arrest.

Haque replied: "Yes. I also did say some of them were over zealous. Some of them were

DEFENDANT: Court sketch of Umar Haque

rhetoric. I even said I cannot believe that's me. I cannot believe I'm speaking in such a violent manner.

"It's just said my rhetoric is to do with terrorism."

In his interviews, he described Patel as a "neighbour" to whom he would chat in the street.

Mr Heywood said: "You had lied about yourself, lied about Mr Abid, lied about Mr Mamun and not told the truth about Mr Patel. You set out to mislead the investigators."

Haque said: "My intention was to wave away any suspicion."

Mr Heywood added: "You set out to mislead from the very beginning." Haque replied: "Yes, you could say that."

He maintained that despite "circumstantial evidence", he was not going to launch an attack in the UK, he was only "contemplating, pondering over it"

Haque said he had not been truthful when he told police he was involved with the administration of the Ripple Road mosque when in fact he had been teaching there too.

He allegedly declined to explain to police the allegation he made children at the mosque enact terrorism scenarios.

Haque told jurors he had been "preparing self-defence against fascists uprising" and claimed there were "fascist police as well as fascist groups".

Mr Heywood said: "Is it the case Mr Haque that unless you are confronted by something you consider cannot be shifted, you will lie if it suits you?"

Haque replied by saying "Islamic jurisprudence" allowed Muslims to lie to protect themselves.

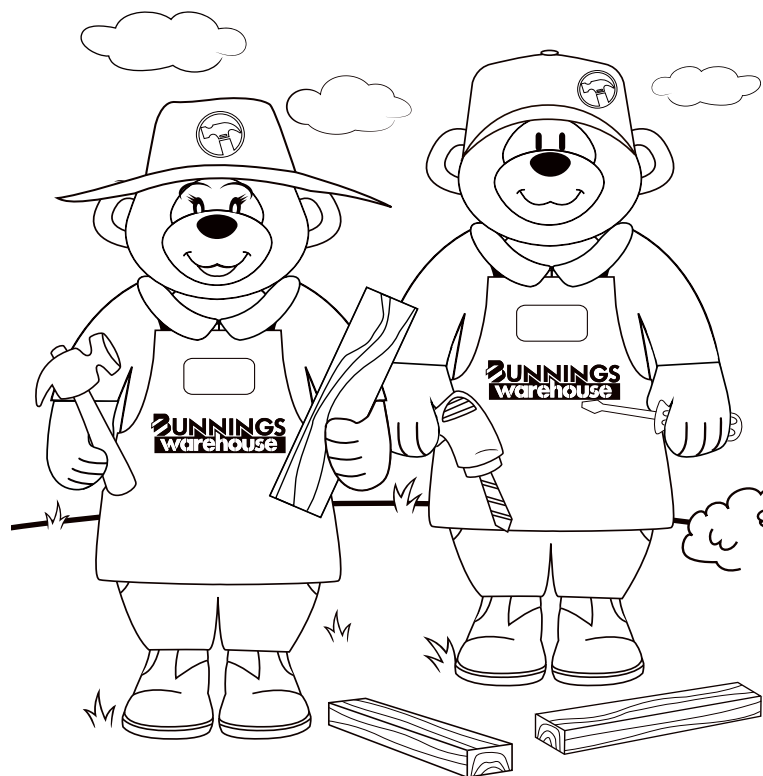

He was questioned about a blue exercise book in which he had written about jihad in around 2013. Haque told jurors that the concept of jihad was a "known part of Islam".

He and Mamun are accused of preparing acts of terrorism between March 25 and May 18 2017. Haque is further charged with preparing terrorist acts by leading exercises in physical training and "role play" with children and dissemination of terrorist publications.

Abid is accused of having information about Haque's plans and Patel is charged with plotting with Haque to possess a firearm or imitation firearm.

The defendants, all from east London, deny the charges.

CEREMONY: Cllr Abdul Aziz reopens Saint Francis Hospice's store in Green Lane, Dagenham

Hospice shop reopens

BARKING and Dagenham's mayor was on hand to officially reopen a refurbished charity store at a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Cllr Abdul Aziz reopened Saint Francis Hospice's store in Green Lane, Dagenham, on Friday, February 2.

Cllr Aziz and his consort Najma Aziz spent time chatting to staff and volunteers at the store, which has been a vital part of the community for 15 years.

The mayor pledged to return as a volunteer after his year in office has ended.

Cllr Aziz said: "I've really enjoyed coming here today and meeting the staff and volunteers who do such amazing work."

"It is wonderful to have a store like this in the community as it not only helps the hospice but it enables people to buy clothing or items at such affordable prices."

Michelle Nicholls, the charity's director of retail, said: "We are thrilled the Mayor of Barking and Dagenham was able to formally reopen our newly refurbished store."

"Retail is one of Saint Francis Hospice's strong sources of income generation and in the last couple of years it has gone from strength to strength."

"This is mainly down to our fantastic work force of staff and volunteers and the continuous generosity of our supporters who donate quality items and shop in our stores."

Woman dies after flat fire

A WOMAN died following a flat fire. On February 1 at 5.05pm firefighters were called to a house converted into flats in Belgrave Road, Ilford.

A woman was rescued from a first floor flat by crews wearing breathing apparatus but died later in hospital.

A woman and two children evacuated from a neighbouring property were treated at the scene for smoke inhalation by London Ambulance Service crews.

Fire crews from Ilford, Barking and Stratford fire stations had the blaze under control by 6.14pm.

The cause of the fire is under investigation by London Fire Brigade and the Metropolitan Police Service.

Grenada theatre on 'at risk' list

THE Grenada theatre in Walthamstow has been rated as one of the most at risk theatres in the country.

The Theatres Trust rated the theatre, now known as Mirth Marvel and Maud, as the joint seventh most at risk establishment.

The risk assessment rates theatres using three criteria – building risk, star rating and community value.

Theatres are assessed and given a building risk rating of one to three depending on whether the risk to the building is perceived as low (one point), medium (two points) or high (three points).

The Grenada scored a two for building risk, two for star rating and three for community value.

Raising of the rainbow flag heralds start of LGBT month

THE LGBT flag was raised above Barking Town Hall to mark the beginning of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Month.

On February 1 members of Barking and Dagenham's LGBT community were joined by councillors, staff, and members of the public to raise the rainbow flag.

Councillor Sade Bright, cabinet member for equalities and cohesion said: "Today is extremely significant as this year marks the 30th anniversary of the Passing of Section 28, which prohibited local councils from 'promoting homosexuality' and 15 years from when it was finally repealed.

"As a council we have a role to play in ensuring all members of our community not only play an active role but that in the pursuit of growth for the benefit of everyone, no one will be left behind."

The flag will fly throughout the month of February.

A number of events will take place, including the screening of Margaret's Story – a documentary which tells the story of a trans-woman and a recital by Trudi Howson, LGBT Poet Laureate who will be performing The Way We Were.

ROLE: The LGBT flag will fly throughout the month as a symbol of diversity and inclusivity

Campaign to sign up more organ donors

AN NHS campaign is urging Barking and Dagenham residents to register as organ donors as figures revealed three people die every hour waiting for transplants.

In Barking and Dagenham 2,106 people signed up to the organ donor register (ODR) in 2017, taking the total number of donors in the borough to 32,970.

NHS Blood and Transplant is urging more people to sign up after latest figures show Londoners lag behind the rest of the country with only 29 per cent of the population on the ODR. The figure nationally is 36 per cent.

Sally Johnson, director of organ donation and transplantation at NHS Blood and Transplant, said: "Thousands of people across London are given a second chance at life thanks to the organ transplants they receive.

"This is only possible thanks to those who put other people first, sign the NHS organ donor register and let their families know they want them to agree to organ donation at the most distressing time in their life."

Figures from the NHS Blood and Transplant Annual Activity Report revealed three people in the UK die every hour waiting for life saving organ transplants.

There are 6,342 people in the UK waiting transplants. One in five of them live in London.

In response NHS Blood and Transplant is launching its Words Save Lives campaign, imploring people to sign up to the ODR and to inform their family.

To join the NHS organ donor register visit: www.organ-donation.nhs.uk.

PC who used carer's leave to take holiday is sacked

AN EAST Area Command police constable has been booted off the force after going on holiday when she was supposed to be on carer's leave.

On August 28, 2016, PC Rae Layzell, who had exhausted her annual leave entitlement, dishonestly applied for to take carer's leave, under the pretence of taking a relative to a medical appointment.

On September 30 she took a pre-booked flight to go on holiday.

The hearing also heard that Layzell missed work on October 9 and 10, 2016.

She dishonestly told bosses the flight she was booked on to return to the country was delayed and then cancelled.

An investigation found there were no cancellations or delays and PC Layzell had instead missed the flight.

PC Layzell did not attend the two-day hearing, which began on Monday, January 29.

The chairman of the hearing found one case of gross misconduct and one case of misconduct proven, and that PC Layzell had breached the standards of professional behaviour in respect of honesty and integrity, discreditable conduct and duties and responsibilities.

She was dismissed without notice.
